Tech Institute, Trades Classes Budgets OK'd

School Board Also Approves Teachers For Programs

The Board of Education, at Monday night's meeting at Junior High School, approved Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith's recommendation for personnel and budgets of the trades and industries classes and of the Technical Institute.

The board agreed to appropriate $4,995.84 for the 1962-63 trades and industries program.

A budget of $59,962.47 for the same year was approved for the Technical Institute, which Smith pointed out "is a self sufficient institute."

Urges Salary Schedule

Smith also recommended that a salary schedule for the Technical Institute teachers be established before the 1963-64 year, which schedule he said "would equate industrial experience with baccalaureate training but which schedule also would be developed in relationship to our regular teachers' salary schedule."

The superintendent urged also that all fees for the trades and industries program be paid in full by Oct. 31, "or students should be removed from the rolls."

The following personnel for the Salem School of Technology for the 1962-63 year were recommended by Smith and approved by the board:

Leroy Pool, $8,000 for 11 months of full time teaching; Rudy Maroscher, $7,900, 11 months; Victor Lake $7,700; Joe Wendell, $8,100, 11 months; Forest Lowry, $2,600, two hours a day for 39 weeks; Barbara Albright, secretary, $2,400.

Employment Approved

The employment of the following instructors for the 1962-63 trades and industries program was recommended and approved for the total number of hours indicated at the rate of $4.25 per hour:

Kindergarten Teacher Hired By Board

At the Board of Education meeting Monday night at the Junior High School, the board agreed to hire an additional kindergarten teacher at Fourth St. School, effective next Monday.

Mrs. Ada Zerbis Frye will be employed as a half-time teacher at $7.50 per day as a teaching assistant.

Smith also sought and obtained permission to make an additional staff adjustment at Buckeye School "if the situation demands such." He said that needs of Buckeye would probably call for an extra hour of service by the regular teacher to give additional time for reading training to those six-year-olds who show readiness.

Smith also reported: Hearing tests of youngsters in grades one, four and seven have been completed by school nurse Mrs. Stephen A. Gonda and the schools' speech and hearing therapist, Mrs. John Baker.

Mrs. Gonda is working with the State Department of Health in developing an oral hygiene educational program in cooperation with local dentists.

Mrs. Gonda will be doing TB patch testing within the next few weeks.

The city library has agreed to serve as the college library for the Kent Center here.

School Board To Borrow

Smith Says System May End 'In Black'

Wallace N. King, clerk-treasurer of the Salem Board of Education, at Monday night's board meeting in the Junior High School asked for and received permission to borrow up to $175,000 before the next board meeting Nov. 19.

Tempering the board's action, Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith announced that the board may end the year 1962 with a balance of from $10,000 - $12,000. The borrowing of up to $175,000 was requested to pay off bonded indebtedness. Funds from the state are expected about Dec. 1. The board also expects to receive tax money from Lisbon in late November.

Smith presented to the board a three-page list of appropriation item transfers, which were approved by the board. The superintendent said: "The contingency fund will have a total of $36,700 transferred, mainly in the salary accounts ($26,900) and should show a year end balance of $6,164.15." He further added that capital outlay accounts will balance, and that the amount of money borrowed this year has been reduced.

"The permanent improvement funds have balances as noted after receipt of amounts from the Boosters' Club, Kiwanis and the Athletic Fund.

"It should be noted that the contingency fund balance plus the other account balances should leave us with approximately $10,000 - $12,000 at the end of the year: all the above assumes no unexpected or unusual financial requirements."

Smith said there has been less borrowing in 1962 than in any of the three preceding years.

Pianist Opens Concert Series Here Thursday

Lee Luvisi, pianist, currently on his third North American concert tour, will perform at the first program of the 1962-63 season of concerts sponsored by the Northern Columbiana County Community Concert Association at 8:30 p.m. Thursday in the auditorium of the Salem Junior High School.

Luvisi, who is at 25 the youngest member of the faculty of Curtis Institute of Music at Philadelphia of which he is a graduate, was born in Louisville and auditioned for Artur Schnabel at the age of eight.

He made his musical debut in 1957 in Carnegie Hall.

He has appeared with the New York Philharmonic, Philadelphia Orchestra and the Symphony of the Air. He also has performed with Thor Johnson and the Milwaukee Chamber Orchestra and in the world premiere of Efram

Thor Booster Malfunctions

High Altitude Test By U.S. Is Failure

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States failed Monday night for the fourth time in five tries to detonate a nuclear device at high-altitude above Johnston Island—and again a missile was to blame.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the failure was due to a mal-

Russian Ships Near Test Cite

Hover Between U.S., Soviet Impact Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—A trio of Soviet instrument ships reached a point in the Pacific today where they were within 450 miles of both the U.S. nuclear test zone and the impact area staked out by the Soviet Union for experimental rocket shots.

From his position it was believed the ships—the Sibir, Suchan and Sakhalin—could monitor the performance of the Russian rockets and any U.S. nuclear tests.

One American test went awry today—an effort to set off a high altitude nuclear test at Johnson Island. A spokesman said the Thor missile and its nuclear warhead were destroyed in flight by a range safety officer because of an unexplained malfunction.

The Defense Department said the latest reported fix put the Soviet vessels 440 miles and roughly south of Johnston Island, and 360 miles west and a bit north of the rocket target area announced by Moscow.

Although the Pentagon didn't function in the Thor booster carrying the sub-megaton device to its firing altitude of 30 to 40 miles. The range safety officer deliberately destroyed the missile eight minutes after it was launched.

Debris from the rocket and nuclear warhead fell harmlessly into the ocean within a predesignated safety zone away from Johnston and adjacent Sand Island, he AEC said. An announcement said there was no nuclear detonation and no danger to persons on the islands.

An AEC spokesman said the tests would be rescheduled. He said other missiles would be used to launch two other devices in other tests.

One test will use a Nike-Hercules rocket and the other a specially constructed booster with the booster from a surface-to-surface Sergeant rocket. Use of these missiles would indicate the two shots would be fired at relatively low altitudes because neither has the necessary thrust to carry their payloads to great heights.

The failure was another blow to United States missile prestige and an embarrassing disappointment to scientists and technicians at Johnston Island. Only one shot from Johnston in the current series has been successful—on July 8 when a giant thermonuclear device was detonated at an altitude of 210 miles.

Monday night's flop followed one 24-hour delay because of bad weather. The schedule went forward Monday night toward its planned firing time of 9:30 p.m. (2:30 a.m. EST today). Radio monitors picked up a voice from

E. Palestine Council Rejects Wage Hike

EAST PALESTINE — City Council rejected by 5-2 vote a proposed wage increase for 11 employees of the electric light department.

The proposed increase was a flat eight per cent.

Objections were voiced by Mayor Robert Harding and members of the finance committee of Council who asked for more time to study the request which had been drawn up in response to recent demands of the workers for a 10 per cent increase.

The city received notice that the permit for the operation of the sewage disposal plant has been extended for 12 months by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board in view of the construction under way of a new plant.

Previous extensions had been for six months, according to the City Board of Health which presented the report.

Drouth Area Farmers To Get Surplus Grain

Feed Available At Lower Prices For Livestock

Winter Rations Low On Many Farms In Salem District

Farmers in Columbiana County and the rest of the Ohio 18th congressional district are eligible to receive emergency feed for their livestock from government stockpiles as the result of the severe drouth conditions in the area this summer.

U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman notified Congressman Wayne L. Hays today of the privileges extended to the farmers because the northeastern Ohio region had been declared a disaster drouth area.

Farmers of adjacent Mahoning County and Stark counties also are eligible.

Hays announced that farmers who show a need for grain can purchase it at 75 per cent of the support price for foundation (breeder) herds of cattle and sheep and may obtain up to a 90-day supply.

Additional feed for non-foundation animals may be purchased at the support price level.

Support price is usually lower than parity.

Apply To ASC Office

Farmers wishing to take advantage of the government's feed grain offer must apply to their local Agriculture and Stabilization Committee and show that they have need for the grain, it is explained.

The Columbiana ASC office is situated in Lisbon where Earl Lora is office manager. L. S. Richards is manager of the Mahoning County ASC office at Canfield.

Appeals Court May Rule On Barnett Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court may rule later this week on the Justice Department's request that it fine Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett $100,000 for his actions in the James H. Meredith case.

Attaches of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said it was unlikely any decision would come before Wednesday. Two panels of the court are hearing cases this week in Atlanta and Montgomery, Ala. They will receive copies of briefs filed Monday by the Justice Department and the state of Mississippi. The state claimed the appeals court no longer had jurisdiction in the case.

Both Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. have been found guilty of contempt by the court for their part in attempting to block the enrollment of Meredith, a Negro, at the University of Mississippi. But no sanctions have been put into effect against the two officials.

When the officials were convicted, the court set possible penalties at a $10,000 daily fine and imprisonment for Barnett and a $5,000 daily fine for Johnson.

The Justice Department's latest request made no mention of John-

Reds Down Two U.S. Aircraft

Viet Nam Guerrillas' Attack Kills Three

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Communist guerrillas shot down a U.S. spotter plane and a U.S. Air Force fighter in South Viet Nam's central highlands Monday and today.

Three Americans aboard the spotter plane were killed.

The pilot of the T28 fighter rode his plane down and was thrown out when it hit and exploded. He was injured only slightly.

An earlier report said the fighter plane belonged to the Vietnamese air force, but later it was learned it was American and that the U.S. Air Force has one squadron of single-engine T28s in Viet Nam.

This was the first indication that U.S. combat planes were in action against the Communist Viet Cong.

In the past, U.S. Air Force pilots have flown combat missions in Vietnamese air force planes in air strikes against the guerrillas.

Guerrillas opened up on the hovering L28 spotter plane late Monday during a government raid on Viet Cong positions in mountainous jungle 10 miles north of Ban Me Thuot.

The fighter plane flew into the area today to give air support to ground forces protecting the wreckage of the spotter plane and bodies of the Americans. American sources said the ground party made contact with the Communists late today and killed two of the Reds.

West Germany Doubts New Berlin Crisis Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer does not fully share the U.S. view that Russia will create a new Berlin crisis before the end of the year, Gerhard Schroeder, Bonn's foreign minister, has told Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

In reporting this, diplomatic observers said Bonn is somewhat baffled by the virtually unanimous prediction of Kennedy administration officials that Soviet Premier Khrushchev means it this time when he says that Western occupation of West Berlin must be liquidated after the U.S. congressional elections next month.

Schroeder's spokesman, Hans Hille, told newsmen after the German foreign minister met with Rusk for more than two hours Monday that Bonn believes the Russians "did not determine yet what course to take," that they are still "groping around," and

Says It's 'Too Sad to Talk About'

Ike Slaps Kennedy For Foreign Policy

BOSTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sharply criticized President Kennedy Monday night for conducting what he termed "a dreary foreign policy ... too sad to talk about."

Eisenhower responded to Kennedy's recent criticisms of Republican foreign policy in the 1950's with a slashing attack of his own. The former Republican president treated a partisan throng gathered at Commonwealth Armory for a $100-a-plate GOP dinner to his strongest attack to date on the Democratic administration's foreign policy.

Eisenhower is scheduled to continue his New England campaign swing in support of local GOP candidates today. The former president displayed his famous grin and his equally famous temper Monday night in Boston.

Eisenhower appeared visibly angry when he told some 5,000 Republican party faithful of recent criticism of his foreign policy.

"Personally I have been careful in all my speeches to keep current foreign policy out of partisan debate. But when a charge is made for purely political purposes—a charge that indeed should be stated in reverse—I must seriously question the advisability of continued silence."

He quoted Kennedy as saying: "During eight years of Republican administration our foreign policy drifted aimlessly about."

Eisenhower called it "a strange departure from fact" when his Democratic successor said "that during the past 21 months, a new and firm and forward looking foreign policy has been developed."

The crowd roared its approval

Schirra Visits With JFK At White House
WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., fresh from a wild, confetti welcome in his native New Jersey, visits President Kennedy at the White House today.

His 6-orbit, 9-hour space adventure a little over two weeks old, Schirra is completing a welcome home tour.

This afternoon he receives the Navy's astronaut wings from Secretary Fred Korth in a Pentagon ceremony.

The 39-year-old Navy commander was honored by celebrations in Honolulu some 72 hours after his flight and in Houston, where he now lives. But a bodyguard with him said neither compared with the welcome Schirra got Monday in a string of North Jersey communities, barely half an hour from New York City.

A parade carried Schirra, his blonde wife, Jo, and their two children through Hackensack, where Schirra was born, and Oradell, where he grew up. Some 40,000 cheering persons lined the way. Schools were let out so students could greet him.

Then, at the River Dell High School stadium in Oradell, Schirra received a congratulatory message from the President and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's award for distinguished service.

Kennedy said in his message that the entire Mercury team "is to be commended for its dedicated efforts to develop U.S. capabilities in space—to get our space program moving from the position of second best to one of world leadership."

ONLY A PAPER MOON — American astronauts aren't scheduled to land on the moon for a number of years, but they can beat the calendar in a realistic manned space flight simulator. Coupled to a room full of computers, the realistic device makes it possible for an astronaut to experience many aspects of lunar flight without leaving the ground. The moon's surface is a film image projected on the inside of a large sphere which surrounds the simulator. Projectors are mounted atop the man-carrying gondola, center. Both gondola and moonscape move in proper relation to each other to give the illusion of motion near the moon's surface. Two cylindrical objects at sides are counter-balances for the mechanism, which was developed by Ling-Temco-Vought in Dallas, Tex.

Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, is at the White House for a week's visit. The former ambassador to Britain, who is recovering from the effects of a stroke, went to Washington from the family home at Hyannis Port, Mass.

Mrs. Katharine Dexter McCormick, Boston civic leader and philanthropist, has given the State Department a half-million-dollar Swiss chateau so that U.S. diplomats will have a better meeting place when they go to Geneva. The State Department announced in Washington.

The historic chateau is perhaps the largest private donation ever to the department, the announcement said.

Mrs. McCormick, widow of Stanley McCormick of Chicago, is a friend of United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson. Stevenson has suggested the gift of the chateau, about 12 miles from Geneva, because of difficulties encountered by U.S. diplomats in obtaining quarters in Geneva.

They told the board 15 county patients are in tuberculosis hospitals. Six are at Rocky Glenn, one at Southwest and the remainder at the Ohio Tuberculosis Hospital in Columbus.

They also discussed the procedure used in their office, records which are kept and the delivery of medication to county patients. A question and answer period followed.

The board voted to secure an opinion from the Ohio Health Department on the use of plastic pipe for septic tanks.

The board transferred $200 from office supplies, $100 from board members fund and $200 from miscellaneous to its travel fund.

Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, gave the following September report:

The health department issued 41 plumbing and 43 sewage permits.

Gene Cover, plumbing inspector, made 48 plumbing, 60 sewage, and 3 nuisance inspections and took 8 water samples.

Harry Stockdale, sanitarian, made 37 food service, 2 nuisance, 14 sewage and 5 school inspections, took 7 water samples and held 6 consultations.

Dr. Palmer and Mrs. Violet Peterson, nurse, made 36 school visits and made 359 physical examinations and 197 Mantoux tubercuosis tests, one of which showed positive. They also gave 194 immunizations, 33 polio and 77 vaccinations. They gave physical examinations to two school bus drivers, and issued 2 worker certificates and made 6 visits to the county jail.

Nurse Peterson made 18 home visits and attended three educational meetings.

Bills of $3,444.30 were paid. The board's next meeting will be Nov. 19 at 8 p.m.

Right vs. Wrong

when you choose stocks and bonds

Maybe you're considering whether or not investing in securities would fit your situation. You might have in mind owning stock to increase your income through dividends or perhaps to give your capital a chance to grow as the years go by. Or you might be thinking of the greater stability of bonds.

Now for the big question: how to go about it?

Wrong: Jump in when the first hot tip comes along.

Right: What's the hurry? Buy securities the way you'd buy anything important — with care. When a company interests you, get all the facts you can — growth pattern, profit record, factors that might affect its future. Most of America's best known companies are among the 1,200 listed on the New York Stock Exchange. This group earns more than 60% of the net profits reported by U. S. corporations. They pay stockholders about 60% of all dividends. Roughly 90% of them have paid cash dividends in the last 12 months.

Wrong: Don't worry about risks. You're bound to win.

Right: There's no such thing as investment without risk. Many things cause stock prices to go up — and down. What's more, a company may not continue to pay dividends on stock or interest on bonds. It's just common sense to keep the risks in mind. But if your company prospers, you may too.

Wrong: Invest every cent you can lay your hands on.

Right: Provide for living expenses and those inevitable emergencies first. Then decide what might be invested. Start in a small way, if you like. One convenient system is the Monthly Investment Plan which requires as little as $40 every three months.

Wrong: Try for a quick killing.

Right: The stock market is no place for get-rich-quick schemes. Set your goals and make them practical.

Wrong: Any broker will do.

Right: Choose your broker with care. They're not all alike. Registered Representatives in Member Firms of the New York Stock Exchange have satisfied Exchange requirements for knowledge of investing. Don't expect them to know all the answers. But they can help you evaluate the facts in a sensible way.

Investing may offer you a new interest in life—a way to meet growing expenses or realize some of your family's ambitions in the years ahead. It's well worth the care of starting right.

High Cost of Conscience

The arithmetic on the Cuban ransom deal is fuzzy, but the principle is as clear as the beard on Castro's chin.

The United States will underwrite whatever shortage occurs in the fund to pay Castro ransom for 1,113 prisoners taken in the abortive invasion on Cuba on April 17, 1961.

This will be an indeterminate sum of money—but it will be very large. And now that word has been spread around that Uncle Sucker is doing the underwriting, the sum will be larger than it would have been otherwise.

THIS HAS been the story of Uncle Sucker's life ever since the late Franklin D. Roosevelt announced that the American "garden hose" belonged to those who wanted to use it for whatever emergencies arose. Since then, the United States has been called on for more garden hose to cope with more emergencies than it ever realized it would be facing when its generous World War II leader announced that open-handedness had become national policy.

In the case of the Cuban prisoners, there is an added angle. Whatever it costs to get the prisoners back is conscience money for the most loused-up military action since Don Juan went to war with the windmills. This wasn't the fault of the American people—even American kids playing cowboy and Indian would have known better than to sail into the Bay of Pigs with no planes, no sea support and no prospects of success—but they do feel responsible for the ineptness of their government.

THEY CAN'T very well say what comes easily to their tongues—that they won't give the Cuban "Castromunists" a red cent.

That would amount to saying they don't care what happens to 1,113 Cubans who never would have sailed into the Bay of Pigs if they'd known the United States was going to louse up the project. Americans do care what happens to these people.

They deeply regret the ineptitude of a commander-in-chief who was new in 1961 and incapable of handling what proved to be his first harsh moment of truth as head of the armed forces of the United States.

At the End of the Line

France's President de Gaulle will need to be a philosopher during what remains of his public career. A fate like that which overtook Winston Churchill awaits him at the hands of the French people and their political leaders.

The man whose great courage and indomitable will have saved France as surely as Churchill's bulldog determination saved Britain, turning its darkest into its finest hour, is tasting political ingratitude. Or is public gratitude only a wishful thought like good will among nations?

Last week's motion of censure causing collapse of the Cabinet of Premier Georges Pompidou was a parliamentary revolt against Gaullist domination. It was caused by Gen. de Gaulle's effort to perpetuate presidential government by proposing a constitutional amendment for popular election of his successor.

This would copy the political system of the United States and terminate the French parliamentary practice of overthrowing governments as part of an endless political maneuver. The proposal will be voted on this coming Oct. 28. Parliamentary elections will follow in November.

De Gaulle now must win or step down. If he loses, he would be justified in concluding that Frenchmen are tired of his heroic efforts to reconstitute France as a major power; that they are tired of him.

But even if he wins, he will be waiting only for the next maneuver to unseat him. It takes a great philosopher indeed to understand why no one man can earn gratitude for helping masses of men and is lucky to escape the violence of those who hate him. In his absence, they would loom larger than is possible while he overshadows them; therefore, he must be destroyed.

Ricky's Precedent

Our thoughts at this time are of Ricky, the German shepherd condemned to die by the highest legal authority of the great state of Virginia, the Supreme Court of Appeals.

Ricky's attorneys, fighting a legal battle that has gone on for two years, are talking now about taking their client's case to the U.S. Supreme Court. And just what is their client's case?

In February 1960, while standing near the body of a sheep, Ricky was shot by a human being who had appointed himself as executioner. The circumstantial evidence was that Ricky had killed the sheep. But the case faltered when no trace of wool could be found in Ricky's mouth.

Complications developed when the dog failed to die. With a life, a lawyer and a chance for human society to take a second thought, Ricky had as good a chance as a human would have with a strong case of circumstantial evidence against him.

A momentous precedence could come out of this if Ricky wins. From time immemorial, dogs in the vicinity of dead sheep have been, ergo, sheep-killers, subject to being shot on sight and no questions asked. If Ricky comes out of his trial for murder alive, questions will be asked.

The Concert Series

A program by the noted pianist Lee Luvisi Thursday evening in the Junior High School auditorium will usher in the 1962-63 season of the Northern Columbia County Community Concert Association.

Now in its 16th year, the community concerts constitute one of the city's rewarding cultural efforts. A sell-out patron audience attests to this fact. A bonus attraction is the privilege of association members being able to attend the Alliance musicals, in addition to the four local concerts.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew:

Something tells me we've been over this ground before, probably several times, but it's like walking along a familiar road.

I am referring to the difference between an event and a crisis. You gave me the idea in your last letter when you said that too many emergencies had left you feeling numb. By that I suppose you mean you felt like a fireman in grass-fire season when alarms come in as fast as they can be answered.

A grass fire is an emergency, but only to the firemen called to put out grass fires. If the firemen arrive on time and know their business, putting out a grass fire is routine. If everything goes all right and everybody keeps cool there is no emergency. There is no crisis. There is just an event. We always have grass fires in springtime.

We also have student riots on campuses, floods and roads that go to pieces when the frost goes out of the ground—all events. Some years ago we used to have coal strikes which everybody viewed as national emergencies, except John L. Lewis, who used strikes to whittle down the supply of coal above ground.

At this season, we have the annual Berlin crisis, politicians cutting up one another in their frantic scramble for public office, football deaths and the annual shortages in public treasuries because all the money was spent earlier.

Month in and month out we have these repetitions of events that have been going on so long they are predictable. We have more weddings in June than we have in September. We have more deaths in January and February. More fires occur when the weather's cold. More suicides occur, according to something I read once, when the wind's blowing.

We have the World Series in October and we have influenza—Spanish, hoggrown and Asiatic. Each year we have droughts and floods. If we wanted to ponder over statistical abstracts we could become as objective as those cold fish who fix up actuarial tables for insurance companies. They have the whole thing figured out like your chances of holding a straight flush in poker.

This would be a good thing for all of us to strive for. It would keep us from sweating so much blood. There are only two things in each life that properly can be called things of crisis—the instant when a life begins and the instant when it ends. And both of these, it goes without saying, are so commonplace they clearly shouldn't be thought of as anything but nature's inexorable routine of life and death.

Everything that happens is just another event—nothing to get excited about—unless it never happened before or is of such a momentous nature that it never can happen again.

If a mother had six live babies at once and they all stayed alive that would be exciting. But it wouldn't be an emergency in the sense that it would be an emergency in politicians' got flustered enough to start destroying one another with nuclear bombs while the rest of us snapped and popped in the heat. That would be exciting and it would be a sure-enough crisis. It never would have happened before and could never happen again.

Your aunt has been reading this over my shoulder and says it makes me sound like a sure-enough crisis myself because nothing like me ever happened before and could never happen again. How that woman loves me! It's frightening.

Regards to the family.

COTTON CORNERS UNCLE GEORGE

Current Political Campaign Has a Familiar Look

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The current political campaign, with its contests for seats in Congress and state offices, has a familiar look. The word "apathy" is being used by many observers to describe the presumed indifference of the voters.

Also, when there's discontent within a party, the citizens who have voted for its candidates in previous elections just don't show up at all—either at political meetings or at the polls. Elections are then won only by those members of the opposite party who do mobilize their strength or get at least enough support to swing an election. Stay-at-home voters, in a sense, count, too. Money talks, of course, and, however it may be camouflaged, organization means money. The funds to hire precinct workers who drag on indifferent voters to the polls are just as useful in midterm as in presidential elections.

Certain spectacular contests, to be sure, will arouse voter interest—as, for instance, the senatorial race in Massachusetts and the gubernatorial contest in California.

NO MATTER who wins in the Golden State—former Vice President Richard Nixon or Gov. Pat Brown—the outcome hardly will be significant of any national trend. Mr. Nixon is on his own. He said flatly on NBC's "Meet the Press" last Sunday that he will not seek the presidential nomination in 1964 and emphatically declared he will stop any draft movement that might emerge.

He has seemed to close the door, but the truth is he realizes the door had already been closed against him for 1964.

Mr. Nixon knows he would not be nominated for the presidency two years hence if he should lose the governorship race this year. He would be considered to have inadequate political strength to carry his own state as a presidential candidate. So Mr. Nixon must pledge unequivocally that, if elected, he will serve a four-year term as governor and not run for president in 1964. He now has done so.

As for a draft this is not in the cards anyway. The Republican party is split into factions and is looking for new faces for the two places at the top of the ticket.

Mr. Nixon also has said that, if elected governor, he will support for the 1964 presidential nomination the Republican who wins the presidential primary in California. That lets him out of any involvement among the would-be candidates for 1964. Also, it still leaves him free to run in 1968, though he wisely says for the record now that he will not be a candidate in 1968 because that's the year in which he expects to support the Republican presidential nominee—who, he predicts, will be elected in 1964 and naturally would be re-nominated to succeed himself in 1968.

BUT MR. NIXON didn't say what he would do if Mr. Kennedy is reelected in 1964 and Robert Kennedy becomes the Democratic presidential nominee in 1968. That would leave Mr. Nixon an opportunity to run and still be consistent with his statement last Sunday. For, while Mr. Nixon is not as young as Bobby Kennedy, the former vice president would nevertheless be only 55 in 1968.

The campaign for congressional seats is in its early stages and has about a month more to go, but already members of the Senate and House are complaining that they haven't had the customary length of time for campaigning because of the prolonged session of Congress.

This may turn out in some instances to be beneficial for there is evidence that the public itself loses interest in long campaigns and repetitious statements.

President Kennedy is trying out some tactics in his weekend campaign speeches that he believes are politically practicable—an emphasis on how terribly bad the opposite party is.

He keeps saying so in generalities without a bill of particulars or any substantial defense of the shortcomings of his own party.

But people in local contests seem to be interested in what is being done or is likely to be done for them by the congressional candidates themselves. They don't always see just what the relationship has been or is likely to be between a president and the congressional candidates.

IN PAST YEARS, presidential influence in midterm elections has not been particularly successful in affecting the result for either party.

It all comes back to the mood of the electorate. Where there is unemployment and other forms of discontent—such as dissatisfaction over Cuba and over the frequent calling up of reserves—the tendency will be for a protest vote to be recorded against the party in power.

In this case, it could mean that large numbers of Democrats will stay at home while the normal Republican vote will, in many instances, prove to be enough to elect their candidates.

"Is It Art? Who Said Anything About Art?"

A Rail Strike for New Years

By VICTOR RIESEL

When I get that certain feeling to turn refugee and escape from news tickers, telephones and ulcerous pressures, I ride the railroads. But I'd better not reserve that urge until next January.

The new year may well bring in the first national rail strike in a long time—for what may will bargain with the national railway unions employing 200,000 on-train workers and some 550,000 off-train employees—telegraphers, yard men and other maintenance workers.

Issues in this fight are more complex than a Khrushchev co-existence speech. But they do simmer down to the rail lines saying they must modernize and they can't keep on some 50,000 men, such as telegraphers, or firemen, or help at small, in-needed stations.

THE UNIONS are trying to save their peoples' jobs in what they call a "slower" operation. There's heartache on both sides, overtime pay, holiday pay, away-from-home pay, night-shift differentials and other benefits which other workers get but the railroads don't provide. Hundreds of millions of dollars are involved.

The strike seems incredible to the layman.

But the experts say it's been a long time coming—and after several efforts at mediation in the next two months, there will be nothing to stop such a showdown.

The last time the national rails went dead because of a strike was in '46. In stood alongside a new president then, Harry Truman. His answer was an unsuccessful effort to draft the railroad workers into the army. President Kennedy won't do that.

HOW COSTLY would such a strike be—even for a few days. The most professional estimate I got was from those who knew the cost of the month-long Chicago and North Western Telegraphers' strike on the 10,700-mile-long line in September.

They say "roughly it cost the line, the workers, the shippers, the farmers the merchants and the hundreds of cities some $45 million." That's about $1.5 million a day for one railroad, albeit the third largest in the land. What would it be for 195 lines?

Clues to this came from the breakdown of the C and NW strike. The line lost more than $19 million in business. But that was for the month of September. It has not recovered all its old business and may never do so.

The line has even lost 6 percent of its daily commuters in and out of Chicago. Certainly they get to work, but they don't ride the railroad any more.

Thousands of shippers turned to running their wheat and corn and lumber and iron ore and coal by other modes of transport, truck routes, and other port. There are inland waterlines. Some of them may never come back to the old carrier.

AND THEN there is the loss of wages to the strikers—and the service but we've always had the notion they come from low-class families and that their morals leave much to be desired.

Since we have no authentic information, we are writing to you for guidance. What are your ideas of women in the service?—T. and R.F.

Dear T. and R.F.: In the absence of authentic information, it's unfortunate that some people believe the worst. Regardless of the career a girl may choose, she maintains the same, moral standards she learned at home.

To qualify for the services a young woman must meet rigid physical, mental and moral requirements. Careful screening and close supervision insures first-rate conduct. Girls who fail to measure up are handed their walking papers.

The women's services offer pleasant living quarters, well-balanced meals, medical and dental care, smart uniforms, economic security and excellent opportunities for advancement.

Forces for the young woman who wants to see some new faces, get out of a rut, and at the same time serve her country. Information can be obtained without obligation by checking your phone directory under U.S. Government for the nearest Army, Navy, Air Force or Marine recruiting station.

Overindulged Teener

Dear Ann: The 17-year-old son of our dear friends was arrested last week for stealing a car. We were shocked beyond words and so was everyone else in our social circle.

The family is prominent and extremely well-to-do. The boy had access to his mother's car as well as his dad's. All he had to do was ask. Why in the world would a boy do a thing like this? He is not stupid.

His parents are heartbroken and nobody can figure out what got into the lad. Can you explain it?—QUESTION MARK.

Dear Question Mark: Some kids steal cars and other things because they don't have anything else to do. "Kicks," they call it.

A boy who would rather steal a car than ask to borrow one is undoubtedly looking for excitement.

When children of prominent families break the law, usually there is a punitive motive involved. They wish to humiliate and hurt their parents, and this is a sure way.

Michigan GOP Hopes To Unseat Governor

By GENE SCHROEDER
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan Republicans, with former auto industrialist George Romney as their candidate, have high hopes of capturing the governor's office from the Democrats Nov. 6 for the first time in 14 years.

Democratic leaders are pushing no panic buttons. They feel confident that Gov. John B. Swainson, a legless veteran of World War II with powerful AFL-CIO backing, will be on top when the votes are counted.

Most neutral observers call it a toss-up.

The campaign was developed into one of Michigan's hottest political battles. It involves such issues as leadership, tax reform, and the political activities of unions.

Democrats say the 55-year-old Romney is seeking the governor's job merely as a stepping-stone to the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

The former American Motors president denies he has his eye on the White House, but Republican leaders say they are proud to have Romney considered throughout the nation as an attractive candidate.

In his efforts to maintain the Democratic grip on the executive office, Swainson has had support from some powerful friends. President Kennedy already has made one swing through the state and will return once more before election day.

Other high-ranking Democrats plugging for the reelection of the 37-year-old governor and Democratic congressmen include Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, former President Harry S. Truman and assorted Cabinet members.

Also helping out is the man Swainson succeeded, G. Mennen Williams, now Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs.

Romney, who is getting little outside help, describes the Michigan visits of Democratic big guns as a "federal rescue mission" which proves that Swainson "needs coattails to ride on."

Activities of the ultra-conservative John Birch Society in one seized upon by Democrats as an indication that Romney cannot control his own party.

The Republican nominee delivered a scathing denunciation of extremist groups at the GOP state convention, drew a standing ovation and says he considers the matter closed.

In his speech, Romney called for a state law that would permit political parties to oust any leaders whose real allegiance was to an "anti-American organization."

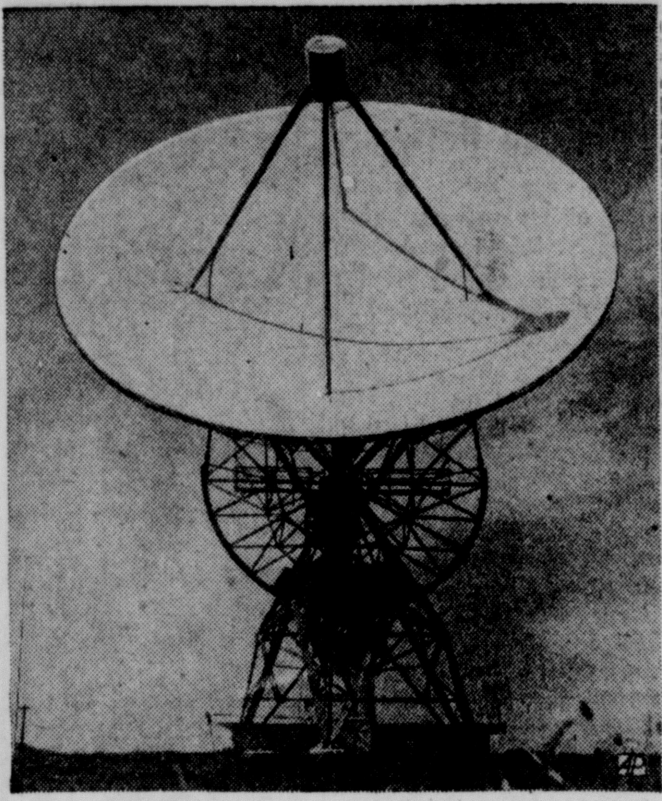

Both candidates have made a strong pitch for the Negro vote, but Romney appears to be handicapped by the fact that he holds a position in the Mormon Church equivalent to a bishop. Democrats contend that the church will not allow a Negro to hold a high office, and therefore regards Negroes as second-class citizens. Romney denies he holds any such views.

Romney also has launched a vigorous attack on some labor leaders, contending they have been dictatorial in refusing to permit him to speak to union members so that they can hear both sides and make up their own minds whom to support.

State chairmen of both parties agreed in a debate that most voters probably have already made up their minds which candidate they favor.

The winner may be decided on which party manages to convince its supporters they should bother to vote.

According to the U.S. Census, some 25.3 million U.S. sports fishermen expended 465 million man-days in fishing during 1960.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Questions And Answers

Q — What causes cataracts? When should they be removed? How long would it be after operation before the eyes can be used again?

A — When the crystalline lens in the eyeball becomes cloudy, the condition is known as cataract. The commonest cause in an adult is advancing age and this type of cataract is found in an increasing proportion of persons as age exceeds 50. Such cataracts usually affect both eyes but not necessarily to the same degree.

The development of cataracts is varied and unpredictable. Most of them start in the outer layer of the lens and the time required for one to reach the "ripe" stage varies from months to years. In some persons the process comes to a halt and the cataract never matures.

Dr. Brandstadt

ANYONE WHO HAS a developing cataract should have periodic examinations by an eye specialist. He alone can tell you when the cataract is ripe for operation. Removal of the lens at this stage is the only known means of relief.

Following operation both eyes are bandaged for three or four days then the eye that was not operated on may be allowed to see. When after seven to 10 days the other eye no longer needs to be bandaged, dark glasses should be worn for a while.

Because, when the lens is removed, the eye can no longer accommodate for near and distant vision, the two eyes will not work together as a team. This can be corrected with glasses about a month after the operation. After this the vision is usually good.

Q — During the seventh month of pregnancy I noticed the veins in my wrists and hands protruding. The condition has persisted and become worse. The veins do not protrude when my hands are not hanging at my side. Can you tell me what is causing this and if there is anything I can do for it?

A — Although varicose veins are most commonly seen in the legs they may occur anywhere, and although varicose veins of the upper extremity are uncommon, that is most likely what you have. Since some form of operation is usually required, you should see your doctor if the condition is causing a lot of discomfort.

Q — I have had plantar warts for several years. I have had them removed but they come back again. What can I do to cure them?

A — Plantar warts have a tendency to come back no matter what treatment is used. The hard outer surface should be cut away as a first step in any treatment. One of the best treatments is freezing with carbon dioxide snow. This treatment is usually available.

INTRODUCING COMPACT 63 DODGE DART

Dart's a new kind of compact in the large economy size. It's got family-size room, family-size comfort. Nobody gets short-changed. The roofline sweeps straight back instead of sloping off. That means lots of headroom, front and rear. Plenty of comfort for everyone aboard. Dart's too roomy to be a compact, but too darned thrifty to be anything else. Dart's standard Six is as easy on gas as other compacts, but the comparison ends right there. This same Six has the muscle of an eight. You get sizzle, space and savings. Compact Dodge Dart, backed with a 5-year/50,000-mile warranty*.

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Two Warren men are charged with attempting to derail a freight train.

William Tisdale, 54, and Joshua Owens, 45, were arrested Sunday by sheriff's deputies and police of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad. The officers said they caught one of the men putting timber on the tracks in the Larchmont Street area, where another attempt to derail a freight train was made a week ago. The man who put the timber on the tracks was identified by deputies and railroad police as Owens.

In the first derailment attempt the train hit a pile of timber but did not leave the tracks. Deputies said one of the men admitted trying to derail a freight to get at meat in the boxcars. Charges also were filed against Tisdale in connection with a still found in operation in a shed at his home. One charged him with manufacturing liquor without a permit and the other with possession of untaxed liquor.

The charges were filed Monday.

Barnett

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told the court both the governor and lieutenant-governor should be imprisoned until they promise to obey the court's orders.

At the university, the student cabinet issued a statement urging an end to student demonstrations against Meredith, first Negro admitted knowingly to the university in its 114-year history.

The statement adopted by the cabinet of nine students condemned also "the forced admission of an unqualified student."

The statement did not explain why the cabinet considers Meredith an unqualified student.

Farmers

last Aug. 24 declared 20 eastern Ohio counties "disaster areas" because of the drought, this extending through Nov. 15 haying and grazing privileges to farmers on lands retired under the conservation reserve and the 1962 feed grain and wheat stabilization programs.

It was not until today, however, that Secretary Freeman made Commodity Credit Corp. grain available at reduced prices. A further clarification is anticipated by the ASC chairman in the respective counties which include Columbiana, Mahoning, Stark, Holmes and Jefferson in this area.

Comments On Situation
Columbiana County Farm Agent Floyd Lower said the feed situation for cattle is serious on most farms. There is a definite shortage of roughage because farmers had to start feeding hay and silage to cattle as far back as July 1. Pastures were so short because of the lack of rain that normal winter rations had to be used.

Lower said the drought has caused prices to rise, particularly corn and that farmers are buying grain in western Ohio or wherever they can get it. "A number of farmers have culled out some of their herds because of the shortage of feeder grain," he added.

Pastures currently are good because of recent rains but this does not offset the earlier damage."

Kiwanis To Hear Review of Book

Dr. Jones announces he is also scheduling some entertainment in observance of the 41st Kiwanis anniversary.

Personality Tests Aired by School Board

School board member Robert W. Campbell, at Monday evening's Board of Education meeting, called for a discussion of personality tests which, he said, "are getting more and more controversial."

He referred to national magazine articles on the subject of personality tests given to students. Campbell said that some authorities believe that if a student has no complex to begin with, the youngster may acquire one from being subjected to certain tests.

Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith in reply said that personality tests, as such, are not generally given in Salem schools. Only in exceptional cases, the superintendent maintained, are the tests given, "and then they are given by a trained psychologist."

He pointed out that the tests given to youngsters here include: a Differential Aptitude Test for Sophomores, the Iowa Test of Basic Skills for grades four through eight; California Mental Maturity Tests for grades one and nine; preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests for Juniors; and the Iowa Test of Educational Development for Juniors.

School Levy Support Sought In E. Palestine

EAST PALESTINE—The board of Education met jointly with the Citizens Committee at the High School Monday night to discuss the promotion of the passage of two school levies in the November ballot.

One is a new five-year, 5-mill levy which has twice been rejected; the other, a five-year, 3-mill renewal.

Board members said approval of the 5-mill levy, which would bring in $70,000 annually, would enable the system to place in operation new school rooms and additions which were recently completed but are now standing idle. A total of $40,000 would be required to equip the new buildings. Funds yielded by the levy the second and succeeding years would be used primarily for teachers' salaries.

The committee plans a house-to-house canvass immediately preceding the election to seek support of the levies.

100 Civilian Absentee Ballots Are Issued

The County Election Board at East Liverpool has issued a total of 100 civilian absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 general election since they became available Oct. 8, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

The absentee ballots are available to persons who will be outside the county and at least 10 miles from their home precinct on election day. Disabled voters' ballots are available for persons unable to get to the polls because of illness or infirmity.

The civilian ballots may be issued until 4 p.m. Nov. 1. They must be returned to the board's office by noon Nov. 2. Meanwhile, the board also has issued 123 ballots to servicemen and their spouses and civilians residing temporarily outside the U.S., O'Hanlon said.

Historical Society Hears Parks Chief

COLUMBIANA — Using color slides to illustrate his talk, V. W. Flickinger, chief of the division of parks of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, spoke before a meeting of the Columbiana and Fairfield Township Historical Society Monday.

He showed pictures of 52 parks under his supervision, including scenic and historical locations and described new facilities found in some of these parks.

Dyke Secretary Of Rogers Firemen

ROGERS — John Dyke, treasurer of the Rogers Volunteer Fire Department, was appointed by President Dale Williams to serve also as secretary when the firemen met Monday night at the Community Hall.

Dyke will succeed Wilbur Huston, who submitted his resignation last night.

Firemen signed the lease for remodeling and occupation of the west side of Community Hall. No action was taken on a bid received from Paul Lowers, Clark-son contractor, to remodel the west side of the hall at a cost of $780.

The water system in the hall has been repaired, it was announced.

Firmen will meet again next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the hall. Fire drills will be held.

Ships

say so, U.S. patrol planes obviously were keeping a close watch on the equipment-laden Soviet ships.

There was every likelihood, too, that United States would observe the results of the Russian rocket firings launched from inside the Soviet Union several thousand miles away.

The Soviet Union announced Monday two areas into which its long range rockets would be aimed—one some 1,200 miles southwest of Hawaii and the other 2,200 miles northwest of Hawaii.

The Pentagon said it was unknown whether other Russian instrument ships had been sent into the second impact area.

The Moscow statement said the tests, beginning today, were part of a research program to perfect spaceship rocket carriers. It also said specially equipped naval vessels will be sent into the target areas.

Some U.S. sources suggested the radar at the Army antimissile test site on mid-Pacific Kwajalein Atoll might be used to track the Soviet missiles.

The Defense Department said: "We do not see any conflict between U.S. nuclear tests and the Soviet rocket firing."

The test was designed to probe the ionosphere and Van Allen radiation belts and determine whether such explosions could be used to mask sneak missile attempts.

Franklin Trustees Hear of Road Work

SUMMITVILLE — Presiding at a meeting of Franklin Township Trustees in Township House Monday evening, president Forrest Thompson announced that slag is being hauled for use on township roads.

Also, he reported that brush had been removed along Township Road No. 845 near the Elvy Thompson farm.

Edwin Copeland presented claims for two sheep killed by a dog, and the trustees approved. Monthly bills totaling $1,770 were paid.

The next trustees meeting will be held Nov. 5.

12 TO BE INDUCTED

LISBON — The Columbiana County Draft Board will send 12 men to Cleveland for induction into the armed forces Nov. 6, the largest number in many months, according to Mrs. Elaine Griffith, clerk.

The board also will send 12 men that day for pre-induction physicals.

Ike

when he added: "This was news, indeed, to all of us who have been following the news."

The cheers continued as Eisenhower heatedly defended his administration's record.

"In those eight years we lost no inch of ground to tyranny, we witnessed no abdication of responsibility. We accepted no compromise of principle. No walls were built. No threatening foreign bases were established. One war was ended and incipient wars were blocked."

"I doubt that anyone can persuade you," he told his audience, "that in the past 21 months there has been anything constructive on foreign relations to equal any part of that eight-year record. For the moment, at least, I shall have no more to say on that subject."

The affair was billed as a birthday dinner for Eisenhower, who was 72 Sunday.

The champion Republican vote-getter of all time, he packed the army. One party official estimated the gross receipts at nearly $500,000.

Shortly before Eisenhower's speech, police revealed that $70,000 in cash and checks collected for the dinner had been stolen from Republican state headquarters over the weekend. All but $10,500 in cash was later recovered.

Speaking in President Kennedy's home city, Eisenhower saved his strongest endorsement for George C. Lodge, Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate, who is opposed by Democrat Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother.

Lodge, son of former U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, served in the Eisenhower administration as an assistant secretary of labor.

Eisenhower said, "He has the energy and enthusiasm and vigor of youth. More importantly, he is prepared for the job he seeks."

Teachers

ated the first $500 for library books. The superintendent declared: "We need additional gifts of $500 for books and sums for scholarship aid."

Schools will be closed Oct. 26 for teachers' meeting in Canton. Loose bricks in one of the chimney stacks at Fourth St. School are being repaired.

The Junior High playground fence will be up this week, and new curtains are hanging in the Junior High School Auditorium.

The resignation of Violet Smith was effective Oct. 2, and Elaine Mellinger has been hired in her place as cleaning matron at Junior High School at $1.10 an hour effective Oct. 8.

All elected board members attended Monday night's meeting. Assistant Superintendent of Schools D. F. Fadely is in Dallas, Tex., attending a national school business meeting.

Summitville Council's Meeting Day Changed

SUMMITVILLE — Summitville Village Council will meet in the Fire House at 8 p.m. Wednesday instead of Thursday this week.

The change of date was announced by Mayor Ernest Phillips because of a conflict in meeting dates.

Franklin Local PTO To Hear Carrigg

SUMMITVILLE — John Carrigg of the Steubenville College faculty will be guest speaker at a meeting of Franklin Local PTO at 8 p.m. Friday in Franklin School.

Refreshments will be served by mothers of first graders.

NBC Special To Show Escape From E. Berlin

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Last week the National Broadcasting Co. called an unusual news conference to reveal the cloak-and-dagger details surrounding the shooting of exclusive film about the digging of an escape tunnel under the Berlin wall through which many people fled to freedom.

The film—excerpts from more than 60 reels shot under extremely difficult conditions in a 3-foot-high tunnel—is expected to be shown in a 90-minute news special on Oct. 31.

Almost immediately after this was announced, 17 German students who had helped with the digging announced they would ask NBC, through the U.S. Embassy, to cut those portions of film showing their faces, for fear of East Berlin reprisals.

Then a German senator, in charge of interior affairs, announced he would ask the network not to show the film, lest disclosure of details might help Communist police find relatives of refugees and East Berliners who helped in the escape plot.

NBC says it contributed some money (amount undisclosed) when three of the students in the plot gave them film rights to the project.

As for the students fear of exposure, William McAndrew, news vice president of NBC, says it is groundless.

"None of their faces will be shown," he said. "We will show only the faces of those who knew what we were doing and what the film would be used for."

CBS, meanwhile, is not letting the dramatic aspects of the Berlin freedom tunnels go unrecorded. Robert Costello, producer of "Circle Theater" is planning an hour-long show for early November that will reconstruct an escape plan, but will use actors and sets to tell the story.

Richard S. Salan, president of CBS News, issued a formal statement after NBC made known its plans. He said CBS had decided to abandon a news show on actual tunnel escapes after it received "from the U.S. State Department certain intelligence information on the U.S. national interest aspect on the Berlin wall tunneling operations."

Result of all the activity is debate inside television, reminiscent of that which went on when Jack Paar did his "Tonight Show" at a critical checkpoint in the Wall.

At this writing, at any rate, NBC still plans to go ahead with its program.

Recommended tonight: "Dick Powell Show," NBC, 8:30-9:30 (EDT)—Dick Powell and Peter Falk play, respectively, convict and prison doctor in an off-beat drama; Jack Benny, CBS, 9:30-10—Raymond Burr is the guest star; "As Caesar Sees It," premiere, ABC, 10:30-11—first of a series of specials returning Sid Caesar to television.

Waterford Fall Track Season Starts Oct. 27

Many new faces and names have been added to the roster at Waterford Park for the fall meeting that gets under way on Saturday, October 27, as virgin campaigners to the area, including horsemen and thoroughbreds, will have their names on the Waterford Park program for the first time as many stables from all parts of the country gather here for their initial try at racing in West Virginia's Northern Panhandle.

The barn area has suddenly sprung to life during the morning training hours as the tempo has quickened with the passing of every hour. Trainers have been sending out their charges and putting them through the pre-season prep as some horses gallop while others are ponied and still others working out in sets either from the gate or around the outside of the racing strip.

The entire racing plant has become a beehive of activity as a continual stream of vans arrive and unload their precious cargoes to be bedded down and made ready for the upcoming meeting.

Racing Secretary Vince Mara, Jr. has every available stall on the grounds allotted, with the overflow being housed at nearby Wheeling Downs where racing is still in progress until Saturday, October 20. Many of the stables remain racing at Wheeling and from there and van to and from Waterford during the fall campaign.

With the closing of several tracks during the past two weeks, demands for stalls at Waterford Park have been staggering in proportion, and Mr. Mara is bending every effort to comply with as many requests as possible with the use of facilities at both Northern Panhandle tracks at his disposal.

Post time for the entire fall meeting has been set at 1:30 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

MARTHA WAYNE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

The Sealtest milk man just informed me that milk went up 2c a half gallon. He also handed me a piece of paper saying whipped cottage cheese would be 5c lower, not a very good trade. I just hope the farmer who produces this milk will get his share of this increase. We get none of it. Paper cartoned milk is not selling. They are raising glass in hopes that it will. Myself I like my milk in glass.

Questions—Answers

- Q—How did the expression "to feel one's oats" come to mean playful and full of energy?
A—It originated as a farmer's expression, indicating how much more energetic a horse acts after it has had its meal of oats.
Q—Did human life evolve on the American continent?
A—There is no evidence of this.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: I wonder how, through the house? Do they try many friends wash their venetian to wash them at the window, blinds. Do they wash them in the dripping water all over the floor tub and carry them dripping and 'amputating' every finger?

Have they ever taken them outside to wash them? This makes the job almost easy.

Lay them on an old plastic tablecloth or rubber sheet—to keep from scratching the blinds—and wash them on your patio floor, porch, or sidewalk.

Wash them with warm soapy water and a soft brush.

Now hang the blind between two clothes lines. Do this by laying the area between the thick board on the end (and the top) and the first slat across the line itself.

Rinsing is now accomplished by turning the garden hose on the blinds until all traces of dirt and soap are removed! Please make sure that your clotheslines are in the shade as the sun will cause spotting and streaking.

Everyone who has casement windows and inside screens... why not wash them while you have the soapy water ready? When you have washed them, lean them against the house, fence or tree and turn the hose on them too!

While you are at it, drag out the baby's chrome high chair, scrub it well with the same warm soapy water and let it sit for a few minutes until all of the dried cereal and green beans are loosened! And... give it a good hose bath too. Go finish the rest of your housework and when you are finished, your blinds, screens, and high chair will be all clean and ready to replace. What a wonderful feeling!

BARBARA

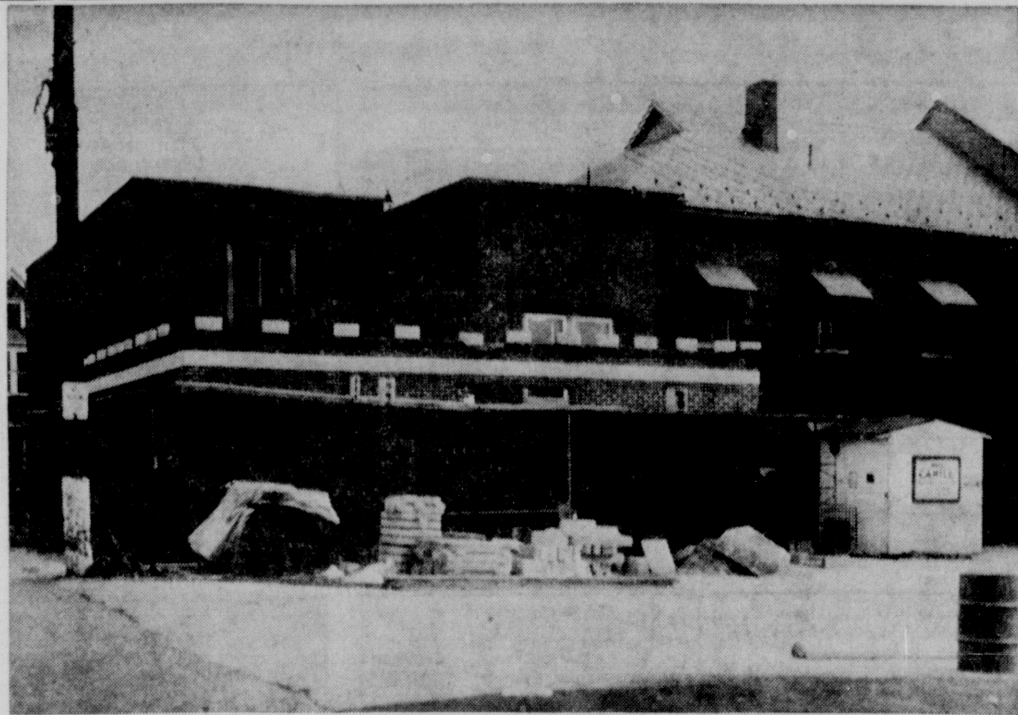

It is suggested that you hang your blinds up while the cords and tapes are slightly damp to prevent shrinking—just in case you have that type!

HELOISE

DEAR FOLKS: For fresh perspiration stains on washable materials (if applicable), wash with water to which a detergent has been added, and a little bit of ammonia. Never use soap.

For old perspiration stains, if the material is washable make a solution of vinegar and warm water to which a little pinch of detergent has been added. Again do not use soap.

CENTRAL CLINIC EXPANDS—Completion of the addition to the Central Clinic Hospital, currently under construction, will double the facilities of the X-ray and laboratory departments on the second floor and provide for a five-room emergency suite on the first floor. Cost of construction will be about $37,626.

Community Chest Agencies:

Clinic Facilities Ensure Latest Diagnostic, Treatment Techniques

On a typical day at the Central Clinic Hospital, more than 100 employees are involved in the care of 50 adults, four children and six babies.

In addition, on an average day several emergency cases are treated and 20 persons are provided diagnostic services in the outpatient department.

About half of the patients who are cared for at the Central Clinic are residents of the immediate Salem area, and most of the others are from adjacent communities. Some patients are transient accident victims.

The original hospital section at 277 N. Broadway is on the site of Salem's first public school. Property for the old Green St. School was acquired by the Board of Education in 1834, and the school was abandoned in 1888, after which the building contained apartment dwellings.

In 1921, the structure was converted to a hospital, which has grown especially in the last dozen years. The Clinic is expected to realize $2,250 from the current United Fund drive.

Albert R. Hanna, hospital administrator since 1940, reports: "Frequent building additions, alterations and improvements have been carried out to provide modern hospital facilities. Replacement of and additions to equipment in every department are frequently made to ensure the latest diagnostic and treatment techniques."

In recent months, a new diagnostic X-ray unit was added to the laboratory. In late summer, the general office facilities were moved from the main hospital area to make additional patient rooms available.

Following building additions in 1950 and 1955, a new addition to the hospital is being built and is expected to be completed before the end of the year, doubling the facilities of the X-ray and laboratory departments on the second floor.

Plans call for the first floor area to contain a five-room emergency suite which is adjacent to the clinic area of the building.

"This arrangement," explains the administrator, "will provide for the orderly and efficient handling of accident victims in the event of major accidents or disasters, as well as the day-to-day minor injuries and emergencies. With the completion of the new addition, the hospital will have a 60-bed capacity."

Jerry A. Colaizzi is assistant administrator.
